

HOODOO MAN BLUES (1965)
by Junior Wells and Buddy Guy

Intro: E7 D7 A7 E7 (turnaround)

Verse 1:

A7

Lord, I wonder what's the matter, you know the times have really changed
It seems like in the midnight hours, everything's rearranged

D7

But I hold up my hand

A7

Lord, I'm trying make you understand

E7

Lord, you know, uh, everybody they tell me,

D7

A7

Somebody done hoodooed the hoodoo man

Verse 2:

Now you know I buzzed your bell this morning, you had your elevator running slow
I buzzed your bell, little girl, to take me up to your chateau

But I hold up my hand,

Lord, I'm trying make you understand

Lord, you know, uh, they tells the baby

That somebody done hoodooed, the hoodoo man

(Spoken) Ha ha ha ha, look a here, baby harp solo

Verse 3:

I said, "I'm gonna tell you this time, baby, and I ain't gonna, tell you no more
The next time I tell you, I'm gonna have to let you go"

But I hold up my hand,

Lord, I'm trying make her understand

Lord, you know, uh, everybody they tell me

Somebody done hoodooed the hoodoo man

Verse 4:

I'm goin' down to Louisiana get me a mojo hand

You know my little girl done quit me for some other man

But I hold up my hand,

Lord, I'm trying make her understand

Lord, you know, uh, everybody they tell me

Somebody done hoodooed the hoodoo man